Forgotten Books, United States, 2015. Paperback. Book Condition: New. 229 x 152 mm. Language: English . Brand New Book  Print on Demand .Excerpt from Fireside Readings: A Collection of Essays, Poems and Sentences In presenting to the public the following literary gems, a brief explanation may not be out of place. The idea of compiling such a work as this was conceived more than a year ago, since which time we have been engaged in procuring material preparatory to its issue. Neither labor nor expense has been spared to secure the choicest productions of the best minds; and we are content to let our readers judge of the success of our endeavors. The names of many of the most eminent authors will be quickly recognized as among the contributors. The poems by Bryant, Hopkins, and Torrey were published by us in a little pamphlet of choice poems issued in 1877, and being special favorites of the public they are reproduced in this collection. Mention should be made of the fact that Bryant's poem, Our Fellow-Worshipers, was printed from the original manuscript of that venerable poet. A few selections from English authors of the Puritan age, the age of English classics, have been made that our young people may form some idea of the richness of the literature of that period, and thus be stimulated to cultivate a better acquaintance therewith. For a similar reason specimens from the ancient Philosophers are given. About the Publisher Forgotten Books publishes hundreds of thousands of rare and classic books.
