Forgotten Books, United States, 2015. Paperback. Book Condition: New. 229 x 152 mm. Language: English Brand New Book  Print on Demand . Excerpt from Rambling Reminiscences of a Residence Abroad England Guernsey On the 22nd of November, 1861, after a boisterous voyage across the South Atlantic from Charleston, S. C., by the Burmuda and Azore Islands, in the Confederate man-of-war, Nashville, Capt. Robert W. Pegram, commanding, we found ourselves comfortably ensconced in a West-end (London) Hotel. - Every one has heard of London and its November fogs - Few Americans know what either exactly is. Daniel Webster, after his return to the United States, was asked what he thought of London, and replied, I have not yet done wondering. This language gives expression to the sentiment with which it has always inspired us, and we are sure we shall never cease to wonder at London or a genuine London fog, dim, dreary, sullen as it is, particularly in November, when it is a vile, double distilled fog of the most intolerable kind. Winter has already scattered his shafts, and this penetrating fog comes like a demon in search of the dead strewn in town and country, through forest and field....
